The book is divided into three sections. The first section, "The Lions," explores the initial shock and pain of loss. The poems in this section are raw and honest, and they capture the author's sense of numbness and disbelief.

The second section, "The Darling," is a more reflective and introspective look at love and loss. The poems in this section explore the memories and emotions that remain after someone has died. The poems are often bittersweet, and they capture the author's longing for the past and her hope for the future.

The third section, "The Journey," is about the author's journey through grief and healing. The poems in this section are more hopeful and optimistic, and they reflect the author's growing acceptance of her loss. The poems in this section also explore the themes of forgiveness, compassion, and love.

My Darling From The Lions is a powerful and moving collection of poems that will resonate with anyone who has ever experienced the loss of a loved one. The poems are beautifully written, and they offer a deeply personal and insightful look at the human experience of love and loss.
