Miljkovic was born in Yugoslavia in 1963. He grew up in a poor family, and he turned to crime at a young age. He started out as a pickpocket, but he quickly moved on to more lucrative crimes, such as burglary and robbery.

In the late 1980s, Miljkovic formed the Pink Panther Gang. The gang was made up of Serbian nationals, and they targeted high-end jewelry stores around the world. They were known for their daring heists and their ruthless efficiency.

The Pink Panther Gang's most famous heist was the theft of the Millennium Star diamond from the Tower of London in 2003. The diamond was worth over $100 million, and it was one of the most valuable jewels in the world. The gang was able to steal the diamond in a matter of minutes, and they escaped without being caught.

The Pink Panther Gang's success was due in part to Miljkovic's leadership. He was a brilliant strategist, and he was able to outsmart the police time and time again. He was also a master of disguise, and he was able to blend into any crowd.

In 2004, Miljkovic was finally arrested in Switzerland. He was extradited to Serbia, where he was sentenced to 12 years in prison. He was released in 2015, and he has since returned to crime.
